Dear Families,

Did you walk into the center this morning and think, "Something seems different?" Well, you were right! This weekend we had the Frogs and Star Light rooms painted as well and the entrance way and hall. The office and Butterfly classroom will be painted in June when we switch the rooms. The paint color is the same, but the fresh coat makes the center look and feel great. Please bear with us this week as we work on getting the information bulletin boards back up on the walls. I am hoping they will all be back in place by Wednesday of next week. In the meantime, I have provided a listing of this week's breakfast, lunch and snack, and please feel free to call the center if you have any questions.

The painting is the first step in the upgrades and renovations we will be making to the center. The staff and I are looking forward to the process and excited to see the end result!

~Michelle
